Ambition for Ageing Community Media Scaled Programme – Subculture

Aims/priorities: The programme seeks to fund the creation and development of themed around older people's specific hobbies, activities and/or experiences. We are setting out to better understand how best to support people over 50 to create media projects, and the barriers which currently prevent them from doing so. The funders are particularly interested in the use of different media approaches that help to encourage enthusiasts to create imaginative and original products. For example, there has been a long tradition of using zines <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Zine> (a fanzine or self-published themed magazine with a small circulation). More recently podcasts have become a popular means for people to self-publish audio shows <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Podcast>. These are just two approaches, for purposes of illustration and are not exclusive. The work must be undertaken in at least three of the eight local authority districts in which Ambition for Ageing is operating: Bolton, Bury, Manchester, Oldham, Rochdale, Salford, Tameside and Wigan (not Trafford or Stockport).
